

Hobby Expo 2010
February 20, 2010
Petaluma Community Center, 9:30 to 4:00
320 N McDowell Blvd, Petaluma, CA

General Admission is FREE

Hosted by the Santa Rosa & Mt Diablo chapters of the International Plastic Modelers Society
Sponsored by HobbyTown of Petaluma

The 2010 Hobby Expo offers something for hobbyists of all interests. The main feature is a scale model contest, but there will also be displays and demonstrations of a dozen Sonoma County hobby clubs. There will be model railroads, RC planes, ships and cars, battling robots and war gaming. Plus over 30 vendor tables, a huge raffle, free Make & Take model building for the kids and the ever popular "Speed Building" Contest.

General admission is free, so bring the whole family.

The International Plastic Modelers Society (IPMS) was founded in 1963, "by Modelers, for Modelers" and is dedicated to the enjoyment of scale modeling. There are hundreds of chapters and tens of thousands of IPMS members across the country and around the world.
